INTERMENT DESIGNATIONS

- It is highly recommended that the holder of the Right to Inter designates whom they wish to have buried in the applicable lot(s). The number of designations may be greater than the number of lots under the holder's control; burials will be permitted until the lot interment capacity has been reached. If no designations are stated and the Right has not been bequeathed to another person upon the holder's death, the lot(s) may not be accessed for burials until a probate court decision has been rendered. The Cemetery Trustees are not allowed to make this determination.
- The holder of the Right may change this designation at any time by updating the records at the town office with a new form or signed letter.
- It is acceptable to make general designations such as "descendants only."
